- reach out to our community in areas of need (breakfast program, soup kitchen...)
- Durham College/UOIT reach out to students (meals, Christian group...)

- be more attentive to visitors
- show more love and care for each other

- more supportive of global missions and projects beyond our doors
- stress further support for each other and beyond
- improve our giving to support God's work
- support others outside the church/synod — missions, Christian aid...
- become more sacrificial in our time/resources; expect members to give not just attend
- attend regularly and invite others to come with us
- start to have interaction with Faith Place residents on a regular basis
- encourage others
- help where needed
- the whole congregation could adopt one cause—humanitarian, local, national or international
- reach out to new faces—talk and listen
- reconnect with old members, especially those who leave before coffee hour
- become directly involved with outreach programs, in a face-to-face manner instead of just giving things and money
- teach and show the love of God to people outside the church—accept those who are different

-reach out to those who cannot come to worship

3. Think of the ways you respond as a LOVING Christian. Now, think of actions you should take to grow in your response to the love of God and people. List the things you want to do below:

- reach out to others by spreading the Gospel to people who can not read
- pray to keep God in forefront, so I hear what I should be doing/direction I should take
- commit to an organization already in place and become part of that outreach
- grow stronger in my faith so I can share with others
- sharing and contributing to the needs of the congregation
- come to church and participate; do some the required duties (reading, assistants...)
- be more helpful to others
- listen to people
- visit the sick and shut-ins
- be more open and welcoming
- give more lovingly and prayerfully
- take more care of our world (stewardship)
- increase our giving
- try to always be open and receptive to people and their ideas
- do more and expect less or nothing—love and share with “no strings”
- treat others how we would want to be treated
- learn to listen to new ideas before saying no
- show not tell
- leave judging to God
- share good news that we can have forgiveness
- trust God to take care of my needs so I can give without reservation
- be more patient and understanding
- smile, talk to people
- be more tolerant to people who are different than we are
- give more readily to church and others in need
- give more time to serving others
- give more consideration to the environment and do everything I can to protect the earth
- have people to my home
- be more willing to help out when the need arises, so others don't have to shoulder the load
